Dear Mr. Landkamer,

I have not heard that the Order has any suspected connection with the JFK assassination and on the basis of all the work I've done I can conceive of no reason for any such suspicion. If you conecture along the lines of who had motive or could have seen benefit in that assassination there is no end and you'll do nothing responsible. If you want to be responsible you'll forget such theorizing until you have a firm factual basis, which will not come easily, because it is necessary to establish some connection between what did happen and your suspects. Believe me, you can't do it.

Appointment in Dalls is entirely a work of fiction, a real con job. There is no "Saul" and your guess is correct, Troit is DeMohrenschildt. I did the reasearch on this years ago and I assure you it is a fake, with real people represented in some instances. I've met a couple.

I am familiar with some of what Spotlight has said and it isn't true. What is true is that Mark Lane said it but that does not make it true. The jury did not say what Lane represents it said. It did not find Hunt, for whom I have no use at all, to have been involved. Rather did it decide that malice was not proven.

The Gemstone file is also fiction.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
